

Summary of the eighth issue “The rise of new technologies: Utility, misuse and meaning”

Editorial

*D. Tan
P. Gallien*

- New technologies put to the test of humanitarian ethics – p. 5

Perspectives

*N. Lemay-Hébert,
A. Martel
P. Robitaille*

- Haiti: tensions between aid relief and development in the health sector – p. 18

Focus: The rise of new technologies: Utility, misuse and meaning

*E. Jané,
G. Foutry
S. Sanou*

- The use of digital tools at large scale: lessons from a health programme in Burkina Faso – p. 40

*Le Roch, Dennefeld,
Antoine, de
Roquemaurel, Bureau et
Ait-Aissa*

- The arbitration required between possibilities of new technologies and usefulness for populations – p. 53

*N. A. Raymond et D.
P. Scarnecchia*

- At the era of “humanitarian digitisation”, lifting the veil of newness – p. 64

*M. de France
N.-F. Eissen*

- Fostering good practices in the use of information and communications technologies – p. 73

M. Hofman

- Humanitarian drones: useful tool, toxic image – p. 88

Transitions

*A. Boinet
B. Miribel*

- The Challenges of the new French Humanitarian strategy – p. 102

Innovations

J. Alejandro

- “The biggest area in which blockchain can help promote human rights is digital identity” – p. 118

Reportage

*Entretien avec
Reza*

- An eye on the world – p. 132

Culture

Totally Brax

- Une brève histoire de l’humanitaire – p. 161
- The voice of the milieu – p. 162

Livres

- [“Within French diversity, I wanted to address Muslim humanitarian aid”
Going against the flow
Brauman: the maverick renegade of humanitarian aid](#)